1. The East German stock-piling plan for 1954 includes the purchase of raw materials and foodstuffs only. Stores of manufactured goods now available will be released for the acquisition of raw materials. Existing supplies of blue and olive-green uniform cloth will be among the exchange commodities used for purchase of these raw materials.
2. Warehouses of the East German State Reserve include the following, among others:
 - a. Auerswalde bei Chemnitz: formerly the firm of Arnold (near the Oberlichtenau station). Available area: one building with a total of 860 square meters. Goods stored there are at times transferred to the Deutsche Handelzentrale (DHZ).
 - b. Erfenschlag bei Chemnitz: former factory in Paul-Franke Strasse 6. Useful area: 3,240 square meters, with several covered galleries. Goods in storage here include metal wares and chemicals.
 - c. Forst-Lausitz, Gubener Strasse 5, former Haensel Factory. Useful area: 10,000 square meters. Goods in storage: textiles and shoes. At present very large quantities are being stored.
 - d. Gornsdorf, in Stollberg: former factory opposite the Meinersdorf Consumers' Cooperative. From the Consumers' Cooperative building, an overhead electric cable runs to a water turbine, which is shortly to be in operation. Energy is provided for the cooperative by the diversion of a stream. Useful area: 2,500 square meters. Goods in storage: automobile tires and cotton.
 - e. Groeningen: former sugar factory. Useful area: a covered gallery with 1,200 square meters, three others with 5,400 square meters. Goods in storage: sugar. Sugar previously stored sent to DIA. (Mostly export stock).
